DISC: Using DISC to Improve Team Dynamics and Collaboration

Learn how to decode the different styles on your team using the DISC Model

THIS SEMINAR AT A GLANCE:

- Explore the four DISC styles and how each one shows up in team dynamics
- Recognize the unique value each style brings and how to leverage that for a more collaborative, productive team
- Identify how your own DISC assessment results shape your communication, decision-making, collaboration preferences and workstyle
- Adapt your approach to better connect with teammates who operate differently from you

DISC: Using DISC to Improve Team Dynamics and Collaboration

SEMINAR SUMMARY

Every team faces challenges: disconnect, miscommunication, mismatched workstyles, missed expectations. The key to solving these? Understanding each other better.

That's where the DISC Model comes in. By helping teams understand the natural behavioral styles of themselves and others, DISC offers a powerful lens for improving collaboration. This seminar uses the DISC assessment to help you recognize patterns in how people approach tasks, communicate under pressure and respond to change. With these insights, teams can work through friction points with greater empathy, clarity and confidence.

In this interactive DISC seminar, you'll learn how to decode the different styles on your team using the DISC Model and how to work with them, not against them. Guided by your personal DISC assessment, you'll explore how your natural tendencies influence collaboration and what you can do to improve team connection, communication and performance.
